Gateway Memorial Arch

- The nation's tallest memorial, The Gateway Arch, was built in St. Louis, Missouri, near the place where Lewis and Clark began their journey up the Missouri River.
- Why is St. Louis a good location for this memorial?
- Why is an arch an appropriate symbol for this memorial?