

Standards 8.2/3/4 Review

Across

- The ____ Empire lasted about 100 years.
- _____ was the leader of the Aztecs when they were conquered by the Spanish.
- The Aztecs used _____ to water their crops.
- A leader known as the _____ ruled over the Aztecs.
- At the height of the Aztec empire, _____ was one of the largest cities in the world.
- Unlike the Maya and _____, the Inca did not create a writing system.
- The most precious gift the Aztec could give their gods was blood sacrifice including _____.
- The Inca were conquered by the _____.
- The _____ of the Maya is why their cities began to decline.

Down

- The capital city of the Inca was _____.
- _____ (or corn) was an important food for the Aztecs and the Maya.
- The most famous of Incan ruins is found at _____.
- The Maya was one of only a few civilizations to independently create a _____ system.
- _____ discovered Machu Picchu in the early 20th century.
- The Aztec _____ city of Tenochtitlan was a thriving, well-designed city with over 40 towering buildings, roads, and a population over 100,000.
- A principal city of the Maya was _____.
- Among many other achievements, the Aztecs created a _____ to mark the seasons.
- Montezuma and other Aztec rulers were considered to be _____ and were treated differently than common people.