

Name:

Human Behavior: Sexuality/Relationships

Prezi Note Sheet: <http://prezi.com/fvqkurb7nix-/edit/#0>

The Wheel

- Building and developing a relationship does not happen automatically when people meet.
- The relationship _____ and _____ as the people come together and relate to each other.
- Thus building a relationship with another person is basically the process of developing _____ and _____ between the two of you.
- Contains four spokes which represent the four steps of relationship building.
 - Rapport
 - Self-revelation
 - Mutual dependency
 - Need fulfillment

Flip your Paper Over, draw the Wheel with the four categories (Rapport, Self Revelation, Mutual Dependency, Need Fulfillment) and take note in each area.

Going Backwards-

- The wheel can also move in the opposite direction, causing the _____ of the relationship
- Sometimes the rapport you feel with someone leads to self-revelation that causes arguments or bad feelings. This is likely to cause less self-revelation. In turn, you _____ will decrease and fewer of your needs will be met.

The Intimacy Ladder

- People climb the ladder as they _____ relationships with others.
- Each rung on the ladder describes one way of being close, or intimate, with another person.

Flip your paper over, draw the a Ladder with three rungs-label and take notes on each rung.

Three Kinds of Love

1. _____
 - The kind of love that people have when they first start dating.
 - Exciting and passionate.
 - You may think about each other a lot
 - Spend lots of time together
 - You may spend hour talking on the phone or texting.
 - Either break up or move into a different form of love.
2. _____
 - The kind of love that allows both people in the relationship to grow and be happy.
 - May enjoy activities together and allow each other time with friends.
 - Encourage and support one another
 - Feel comfortable and safe feeling thoughts and feelings.
 - You can be yourselves
3. _____
 - Isn't necessarily love
 - Means one or both people in the relationship feel a desperate need for the other.
 - The need for the other person is like an addiction.
 - The thought of being alone can be frightening.
 - Men and women may express it differently.
 - In addiction on partner usually tries to control the other.